Our Consulting-Services

Process Management: We know that processes constitute the core of every business: every product is the result of a process and the quality of the product can be directly attributed to the quality of the processes. By means of the BPM tool Aeneis we visualize grievances and optimization potential in the processes in a short time and understandable for everyone.

Project Management: We boast more than 30 years of experience in transformation and digitization projects, with bringing the Industry 4.0 process to life. Our key strengths are implementation, rollout and optimization of SAP and as well as the upcoming switch to S/4HANA.

Change Management: As a matter of fact transformation and digitization projects are accompanied by a set of changes. While Business is changing, processes, roles, tasks and responsibilities change, too. We train and coach your employees and sustainably anchor the change.

Risk Management: We are aware that it is not enough to just establish smooth processes, but that their course of action must be protected against unexpected events. For this, together with our customers, we have environmental and corporate risks in mind. Plus, we are always one step ahead.
